

New Brigden School Update

September 4, 2025

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE – MS. PONCELET

Welcome to the start of a new school year! The excitement is evident as we greet both familiar faces and those joining our New Brigden family for the first time. It was truly wonderful to connect with new students and their families during our Back to School Breakfast, and I'm looking forward to collaborating with our community throughout the year.

Our passionate staff is devoted to nurturing an engaging and supportive learning experience for every student. As we begin this year's journey together, maintaining open lines of communication and working hand-in-hand remains our top priority for everyone's success. To keep this ongoing, student agendas will be sent home nightly; students are responsible for bringing these to and from school, and we ask that a parent initial each day. Most updates and messages will be communicated through agendas, so please feel free to send notes back to us. You'll also find a pouch at the front for sharing notes and a reading log- please remember, we encourage every student to read for at least 15-20 minutes nightly, whether independently, with a family member, or by listening to a story. We'll be celebrating collective reading efforts with class rewards for minutes logged.

Special thanks go out to Mrs. Tye and Lucille for arriving early to prepare the Back to School Breakfast, and sincere appreciation to all families who attended and assisted with cleanup. What a fantastic way to kick off our school year together.

Enjoy the remaining days of summer and best wishes for a safe and abundant HARVEST season ahead.
